In Judge Webb's Court.

In Judge Webb's Court yesterday the following persons were each fined $7.50 for disorderly conduct, the fines in all amounting to $105: Allie Hill, Wm. Jones, Sol Hill, Sonnie Buckner, Nathan Price, Asa Huffman, Moss Talbott, John Thomas, Jim Jackson, David Coon, Will Gaines, Jack Risk, Wm. Risk and David Jones.

Follows His Master.

"Hill," the favorite dog of the late James Mernaugh, was chloroformed to death Saturday evening. The dog was devotedly attached to his master. They were inseparable. After the sudden death of Mr. Mernaugh the dog was inconsolable. He searched the entire town over several times each day, and plainly manifested his grief in several ways. Of late he has been snapping and biting at every dog he met, and showing symptoms of madness. It was finally decided on Saturday to chloroform him for safety's sake, although those who performed the unenviable task, and who were all dear friends of the departed Chief of Police, did so with trembling hands and with tear-filled eyes.

THE DEMOCRAT says this is a Bank fight against the old council. Get out! You can not fool anybody else with that old gag.

The old council confesses that George Alexander was made Treasurer because he noted for the old council. Is a Republican who votes for a Democrat when he knows he is going to get a fat office, more deserving than a Democrat who always votes for Democrats whether there is anything in sight or not?

MR. ASHBROOK is a shrewd lawyer. When as a member of the council he succeeded in getting for himself or his firm compensation for legal work far in excess of its actual value, he only proved the truthfulness of above assertion. Mr. Ashbrook was asked Saturday what he was going to do about the charges which had been made against him in the BOURBON NEWS. His answer was: "My dear sir, you cannot fight the truth."

Mr. Ashbrook knows that the charges are true. In acknowledging their truthfulness he is adding to his record as a shrewd lawyer, but he is doing so at the expense and a very dear expense of the taxpayers of Paris. Experience costs, but after having gained it, there is no reason why we should continue to pay for it.

In Saturday's issue of the Paris Democrat that paper takes up three columns of its space in printing an article from one of its corps of "bug-house" correspondents, which equals, if it does not surpass in damnable foolishness, that celebrated "resolution ordinance" recently passed by the present City Council. Those who had the courage this hot weather to wade through the remarkable effusion were well paid for their trouble for there were several really humorous paragraphs in it.

The writer signed himself "The Man in the Moon," which was probably correct, for no man on earth could possibly put together such a jumble of idiotic sentences and silly paragraphs. It was rumored on the streets Saturday that the author was the author, and when the report reached Isaac's ears he threatened to bring suit against the originator of the story for damages. "I may be a fool nigger," said Ike, "but by golly, I'm still outside of the crazy house."

THE NEWS will only analyze a few of these remarkable paragraphs. Just read and ponder over this one:

"And now, oh Bill, of the Democrat, which bill, you know there are several bills of the Democrat, plainly can I see that the News has done its fighting clothes, it is made, warm, and, for the first time these many moons. Against whom Bill, against the common enemy? No, no I'll understand, they are mad with self brethren, men who have always tried to keep the party together, men who have fought the battles of Democracy to a finish, while the Bourbon News has sat on the fence."

Men who have always tried to keep the party together, and who unblushingly and with the nerve of desperation tell you they individually and collectively voted for and did give one of the principal offices within their gift to a Republican. Here's another one:

"The old council can stand firm on its record. They have been tried and not found wanting."

They certainly have not been found wanting any thing which it was possible to give themselves.

Throughout the entire article there is not one ray of reason. The writer tries by sarcasm and anabotivie attempt at humor to avoid answering a single one of the questions and charges made by the News.

For heaven's sake, Remington, write it yourself next time. Even you could do as well, if not better.

How Is This For a Trust?

Parish, the councilman, furnishes all the sewer pipe used by the city. Montgomery, the councilman, furnishes all the insurance used by the city. Remington, the councilman, furnishes all the printing used by the city. Ashbrook, the councilman, furnishes all the legal advice used by the city. O'Brien, the councilman, furnishes all the testing needed by the city. And yet they all are laying awake nights studying the interests of the taxpayers who elected them. Relegate them all to private life once more and let them hustle for a living.

An Enjoyable Event.

One of those pleasant events which in the past has always been looked forward to with pleasure, will be this opening ball at Estill Springs on Friday, July 5. No fairer place could be imagined for an event of this kind than Estill Springs, the summer home. Under the efficient management of Mr. W. R. Thomas it is regarded to-day as one of the ideal summer resorts of the United States. On the opening day there will be a magnificent orchestra, and special rates at the hotel and on the railroad from Friday till Monday. One can leave the Springs at 5 a. m. Monday, and arrive at Paris at 7:45 a. m. There will undoubtedly be a large crowd from Paris attend the opening.

LEXINGTON HORSE SHOW Fair and Carnival, Aug. 12-17.

Confederate Veteran Reunion.

Wednesday, August 15, has been fixed for the big Confederate Veteran Reunion. It will occur at Lexington, and be held at the Horse Show, Fair and Carnival, and all Confederate Veterans and their wives will be admitted to the grounds free of charge and royally entertained by the Elks. One of Janbert's famous Burgoo will be provided, in addition to a basket picnic, besides the fair attractions which will be free as above. A gala day for all Vets.

WANTED.—One hundred thousand bushels of bluetgrass seed.
E. F. SPEARS & SONS.

A Successful Opening.

The many friends of "Uncle Arch" Stout paid their respects to him at the opening on Saturday of his palatial saloon on Main street, in the room formerly occupied by the Crosdale restaurant. A magnificent lunch was served to which everybody did justice. "Uncle Arch" will keep nothing but the best of wines, liquors, etc., and invites all his old friends and as many new ones as possible to call on him.

SMOKE the Stoner. Made in Paris and none better.

Does It Pay To Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. "Boslee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac.—W. T. Brooks.

Plead To the Indictment.

No bank, except the Alexander Republican Bank, has any interest whatever in the election of Councilmen. That being a fact, the dire distress of the "old ticket" shows itself when they can make no answer to the serious charges made on the streets and in the prints against their acts as officers except to say: "The only question in the case is whether the banks shall pay tax like other people."

You know gentlemen, that you have yourselves settled the bank tax question. You know the banks have paid the back tax nearly a year ago, and you know, too, that they will not, because they can not, raise any question about tax in the future. That question is settled and gone, and you are entitled to full credit for settling it in the interest of the city. THE NEWS differed from you on this question when it was up, but the Courts decided with you; the matter is settled and relegated to the category of "closed incidents," and Tax News freely grants you all the credit there is in it. Now listen; Mr. Ashbrook and Mr. Remington have been charged with entering into contracts with the city through which they—members of the council, whom the law forbids to make or be interested in any contract with the city—have received thousands of dollars of the money paid by the people to the tax gatherers.

It has been charged that Mr. Ashbrook is now engaged as attorney under employment of the council, in various suits which the city has in court, and in which the council has yet to pay him—what?—whatever he asks—and he is not useful in asking.

It has been charged that the Council, in violation of law, employs Mr. Remington, a member of Council, to do the public printing, and pays his bills outside question, and that these bills besides being illegal, as being the bills of a member of Council, are far in excess of what the same work would be done for by others.

The Council is charged with having voted to pay the Collector a large sum of money contrary to law, for services not rendered by him and for which he was not entitled to receive any pay, much less the large sum that was paid him.

These and various other charges gravely affecting the right of this council to be re-elected are talk in the streets and in the prints, and what reply do they make? None whatever. They do not even attempt to reply. They plead guilty by remaining silent. Let the voters answer to-morrow. But let nobody be misled by the efforts to resurrect an issue which is dead and buried.

The "old council" is indicted at the bar of public opinion. Let them plead to the indictment.

THE FAIR.

CALL for the Stoner cigar. Union made.

From the Charter of the City of Paris.

"Members of the Council shall hold no other civil office nor be directly or indirectly interested in any contract with the city."

"Should any officer of said city be directly or indirectly interested as agent or principal in any contract with said city, he shall thereby vacate his office."

Question Answered.

Yes August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Bileousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom had a cure. Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration, Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull with headaches and other aches. You only need a few drops of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied that there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.—W. T. Brooks.

A Campaign Misrepresentation.

Our attention was called to an unsigned article in the Paris Democrat of June 22nd concerning the Bank Tax Cases, in which the position was taken that the larger salary paid to the attorneys who succeeded us as City Attorneys was justifiable on the ground that the former City Attorneys, meaning ourselves, were attorneys for the banks, and while also attorneys for the city allowed, as the writer asserted, limitation to run against the banks for taxes of 1893 amounting to about $12,000. And the writer referred to the $700 paid us for three years' service as "700 paid to lose $12,000."

Not being candidates ourselves, we were not disposed to pay any attention to this, presuming that the public would make due allowance for the exaggerations incident to a warm campaign. But on last Saturday the same idea was repeated in a communication in the same paper. IT IS NOT TRUE THAT WE WERE ATTORNEYS FOR THE CITY WHEN THE BANK TAX OF 1893 WAS BARRED. The tax of 1893 became due July 1st, 1893 and was barred five years thereafter, viz: on the 1st day of July 1898. We were not attorneys for the city on the 1st day of July 1898. Our last contract with the city terminated the last of May 1898 and Rogers & Moore were elected to take our place on the 28th of May, 1898, as will appear from the minutes of the council meeting of that date. The only transaction we had with the city after May 28th 1898 appears on page 153 of the City Record in these words: "McMillan & Talbott, salary one year ending June 1st 1898."

A suit to recover the tax of 1893 could have been filed on any day, except Sunday, from the time we ceased to be City Attorneys up to July 1st 1898, and such suit would not have been barred by limitation. In addition to this, Mr. Ashbrook, who united with Rogers & Moore in instituting the tax suits for the city, was a member of the council for more than six months prior to July 1st 1898—that is for more than six months before the tax of 1893 was barred by limitation. In saying this we do not mean to impute any fault or failure of duty to any of these several persons, because as a matter of fact the Supreme Court had not, at the time under consideration, passed upon the disputed question as to the liability of the banks for city tax and a general disposition to get together and compromise rather than to resort to litigation was prevalent among the business men generally, culminating shortly thereafter in compromise in various cities through the State. As to Paris the efforts on all sides to compromise rather than to seek legal redress did not cease until as late as October 1898, long after the tax of 1893 had been barred.

Since therefore, we were not attorneys for the city when the claim was barred on July 1st, 1898, the phrase as to "paying $700 to lose $12,000" is absolutely meaningless. Besides the $700 was paid for services for a period of three years when the State Constitution and City Charter were new and required unusual legal attention in their construction. In addition, there were numerous suits, all of which either in the lower or upper court were finally decided in favor of the city. In the light of these facts the injustice of the above mentioned article needs no comment.

You Do, or You Don't Need Goggles :

The eye being a rather delicate organ, great care should be exercised in the selection of proper glasses. Many believe that glasses should be restored to only when the sight becomes so defective as not to be able to do without. This is a great mistake which must be combated. Whenever there is unmistakable evidence of the need of their aid, they should be used. A neglect of this rule sometimes produces mischief which results in serious trouble if the course be persisted in. Our Dr. C. H. BOWEN having just returned from taking a special course in Optics from one of the best specialists in New York, is prepared to do the best of work, having the latest improved methods of fitting.
